

First Pictures of the League of Nations in Session

First sitting of the League of Nations in its palace in Geneva, Switzerland, November 15. This photograph was one of the first to reach America. Paul Hymans of Belgium was chosen chairman or president. The former Hotel National, known to thousands of tourists, is the League's official home.

Photographs on this page copyright by Keystone View Company.

Signor Tittoni, who heads the Italian delegation, was snapped as he arrived in Geneva and just before he entered the automobile to take him to the hotel.

The arrival of the Japanese delegates caused considerable stir, as they were the first to be accompanied by any women.

Important factors in the League of Nations meeting. Left to right: Gaston da Cunha, Jose Quinones de Leon, Tomasso Tittoni, Leon Bourgeois, Paul Hymans, president; Sir Eric Drummond, secretary; H. A. L. Fisher, Viscount Ishii, Dimitrios Caclamanos.